By Kindle Customer Pops I feel a lot of what he had to say was based on Dr. York's teaching which a lot of it is not scientifically accurate for instance about the Olmecs existing prior to the continental drift is completely inaccurate and the Egypt having it's origins in Atlantis via Mars is a bit out there. He raised many interesting points and being a former Nuwaupian I'm very familiar with York's teachings which is pseudo and highly extraterrestrial based. Towards the end of the book when he began touching on haplotypes I FOUND that Intriguing overall it was an enjoyable read for nothing else then to have an idea of how certain teachers are able to string things together.

By Mugisa Rathaël Fambroi am so proud to see young africans pick up the mantle that has been laid down by their ancestors for them to take. this young man is brilliant, but i'm sorry he has followed a scam artist for a teacher. i say do the research yourself young man, the answers are there. you have a lot of correct information in your book, but all of the york stuff, is just egomania. that guy has no research that can be proven by the rest of african scholarship. a pretty good book, a definite read, minus a lot of york's sayings.

NON BIAS yet informative book
By Antwon Very Good NON BIAS yet informative book. Challenges ALL theories support alot of accurate ones and debunks others. Only 10 chapters and the authenticity has only been studying Egyptians for less than a decade. 8 yrs to be exact but very good book that PROVES black people for hundreds of years were the first and ONLY Egyptians

Black Egyptians sets out to prove once and for all that Black Africans started and ruled the Ancient Egyptian civilization. This is the book to finally solve the Ancient Egyptian race controversy. Drawing on a wealth of sources including Nuwaupu, genetics and archaeology, the author combines conventional and unconventional Egyptology together to form a unique record of Egyptian history and set the stage for Black Africans to unite under one common creed.

"Egyptology will never be the same again!" "A MUST HAVE for those interested in Black history and Egyptology. Very well researched and written in style, this dismantles the race controversy of blacks being omitted from the history of Ancient Egypt and dares to present the true origins of the Egyptians which mainstream Egyptologists are too scared to explore."
About the Author
Segun Magbagbeola (born 1984) in Lagos, Nigeria is a writer and director of Akasha Publishing Ltd. He was born to Nigerian parents and spent the early years of his childhood there before moving to London, UK with his immediate family and has lived there since. He is a graduate of Brunel University with a BSc degree in Information Systems. He became a Nuwaupian at 21 and was inducted as a member of the Ancient Egyptian Order, crowned with the name Har-Aha TepyPet 'Fighting Hawk Chief of the Sky'. As a Nuwaupian he became fascinated with Black History, Egyptology, religious studies, ancient civilizations and Extra-terrestrial life. His first book 'Black Egyptians' was written to prove once and for all that Black Africans started and led the Ancient Egyptian civilization and give Africans/Caribbeans a common culture to unite. He also works as a personal trainer and enjoys martial arts including Wing Chun Kung Fu and Muay Thai. He has been involved in acting for several films, short films, commercials and modelling. He is working on a new novel (The adventures of Kamun) due January 2014.
