

Charter of the United Nations and Statute of the International Court of Justice

United Nations
*ePub | DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

#936660 in Books 2015-09-11Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 .30 x 3.90 x 5.20l, .0 #File Name:
921101283X128 pages | File size: 38.Mb

United Nations : Charter of the United Nations and Statute of the International Court of Justice before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Charter of the United Nations and Statute of the International Court of Justice:

2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. If you are ignorant of how the United Nations operates, purchase this text!By Ernest WilliamsI was ignorant of how the United Nations operates; therefore, I decided to purchase this small pocket-size text. I made a good decision. The UN will continue to play a vital role in world affairs. In light of the civil war taking place in Syria and the supposed use of chemical weapons in that country (President Al-Assad is accused of ordering the use of chemical weapons on rebel forces), and Iran's nuclear program (Iran is accused of developing nuclear weapons. In my view, as a sovereign nation, Iran has the right to have a nuclear program), one needs to understand how the UN Security Council operates. Russian continues to be an ally of Iran on the Security Council.

Purchase this text!
0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Small Price for a Small Pamphlet
By Chauncey
This is a really small pamphlet with a slightly different cover than what is shown here. However, it is certainly the Charter of the United Nations.
0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Four Stars
By Customer
Really fit in your pocket

The Charter of the United Nations was signed in 1945 by 51 countries representing all continents, paving the way for the creation of the United Nations on 24 October 1945. The Statute of the International Court of Justice forms part of the Charter. The aim of the Charter is to save humanity from war; to reaffirm human rights and the dignity and worth of the human person; to proclaim the equal rights of men and women and of nations large and small; and to promote the prosperity of all humankind. The Charter is the foundation of international peace and security.