Ildiko Beller-Hann : Community Matters in Xinjiang, 1880-1949: Towards a Historical Anthropology of the Uyghur (China Studies) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Community Matters in Xinjiang, 1880-1949: Towards a Historical Anthropology of the Uyghur (China

Studies):

Based on a wide range of Western and local materials, this book offers an introduction to the historical anthropology of the Muslim Uyghur of Xinjiang from the late 19th century to 1949. The author argues that social relations in this era were shaped at all levels by the principles of reciprocity and community. Particular attention is paid to the domestic domain and to life-cycle and religious rituals. This is the first time that Xinjiang has been approached from the perspective of historical anthropology. Giving substance to the concept of tradition which modern Uyghurs invoke when constructing their collective identity, Beller-Hann's study also has implications for contemporary analyses of inter-ethnic relations in this sensitive region.

..is a pioneering effort in its historical anthropological approach. Her use of early ethnographic and primary accounts of domestic and religious life in Xinjiang reveals the importance of community in Uyghur social relations during the period in question. (...) As such "Community Matters" provides a useful historical foundation for further scholarship on contemporary Uyghur affairs." James D. Frankel, University of Hawai'i at Manoa, "Religious Studies", Vol. 37 (2011).
