A superb treatment and renewal on Luthers two kingdomsBy Ho Chun Kit AndyThe Church would remain as the inner circle, and the civil community being the outer circle. Jesus Christ is the center of these two concentric circles. Both are under the Kingdom of God and are only temporal and earthly in this unredeemed world. The Churchs ultimate hope is not to be an eternal church, rather its only hope would be the heavenly city coming from above as testified on the book of revelation.The Church would share the political responsibilities of the outer circle, the civil community, with political acts in accordance with the gospel it is commissioned by God. The civil community upholds the external, earthly and temporal human justice in accordance with the divine commission of God. They have different functions but not completely unrelated. Both are liable to the divine judgment of Jesus Christ. Thus, both are accountable in pursuing human justice, even in this unredeemed world.Jesus Christ is the Lord of lords, King of kings!
