Tahir Abbas : Contemporary Turkey in Conflict: Ethnicity, Islam and Politics before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Contemporary Turkey in Conflict: Ethnicity, Islam and Politics:

New perspectives on ethnic relations, Islam and neoliberalism have emerged in Turkey since the rise of the Justice and Development Party (AKP) in 2002. Placing the period within its historical and contemporary context, Tahir Abbas argues that what it is to be ethnically, religiously and culturally Turkish has been transformed. He explores how issues of political trust, social capital and intolerance towards minorities have characterised Turkey in the early years of the 21st-century. He shows how a radical neoliberal economic and conservative outlook has materialised, leading to a clash over the religious, political and cultural direction of Turkey. These conflicts are defining the future of the nation.
