

Contesting Archives: Finding Women in the Sources

From University of Illinois Press
ebooks | Download PDF | *ePub | DOC | audiobook

Download Read Online

#1335533 in Books 2010-06-09 Original language: English PDF # 1 9.00 x .60 x 6.00l, .75 #File Name: 0252077369248 pages | File size: 51.Mb

From University of Illinois Press : Contesting Archives: Finding Women in the Sources before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Contesting Archives: Finding Women in the Sources:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great Resource! By Customer Great resource for budding women's historians!

The contributors of 'Contesting Archives' challenge the assumption that an archive is a neutral, immutable, and a historical repository of information. Instead, these historians view it as a place where decisions are made about whose documents - and therefore whose history - is important.

"Contesting Archives makes vivid and concrete the way historians must proceed when faced with partial or contradictory sources. Historians and anyone interested in how historians work will appreciate the authors' strategies for, and cautions about, unearthing information about women from documents inside and outside the archive." -- Margaret Strobel

"Contesting Archives" makes vivid and concrete the way historians must proceed when faced with partial or contradictory sources. Historians and anyone interested in how historians work will appreciate the authors' strategies for, and cautions about, unearthing information about women from documents inside and outside the archive."--Margaret Strobel, coeditor of "Expanding the Borders of Women's History"

About the Author
Nupur Chaudhuri is a professor of history at Texas Southern University and the coeditor of Voices of Women Historians: Personal, Professional, and Political.
Sherry J. Katz is a lecturer in the department of history at San Francisco State University.
Mary Elizabeth Perry is a retired professor of history at Occidental College and a research associate at the UCLA Center for Medieval and Renaissance Studies. She is the author of The Handless Maiden: Moriscos and the Politics of Religion in Early Modern Spain.