Anna M. Gade : Perfection Makes Practice: Learning, Emotion, and the Recited Quran in Indonesia before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Perfection Makes Practice: Learning, Emotion, and the Recited Quran in Indonesia:

The last decade has seen widespread Islamic religious revitalization in Southeast Asia, a region with a Muslim population almost as large as that of the entire Arabic-speaking Middle East. One such movement in 1990s Indonesia promoted engagement with the Qurn through memorization, reading, skilled performance, and popular competitions in recitation. This movement drew on longstanding structures of Islamic education and piety, social interests, Southeast Asian patterns of performance and aesthetics, and unique features of the Qurn itself. Based on fieldwork in South Sulawesi and elsewhere in Indonesia, Perfection Makes Practice vividly portrays Indonesian Muslims' committed practice of perfecting their own (and others') Qurnic piety.

"Offers a remarkable view into the Qur'an as it is learned and as it is lived within the world's largest Muslim society.... Essential reading for Qur'anic studies, Islamic studies, and comparative approaches to sacred texts." About the Author Anna M. Gade is an assistant professor of religion at Oberlin College.
