Excerpt from Report of the Jacksonville Auxiliary Sanitary Association of Jacksonville, Florida: Covering the Work of the Association During the Yellow Fever Epidemic, 1888
IN presenting this report of the Executive Committee of the Jacksonville Auxiliary Sanitary Association to the public, a few words of introduction are permissible and necessary. The report is mainly a history of the work of the Association; incidentally, it touches upon the relations of the Association with the recognized authorities and their labors during the recent yellow fever epidemic.
