Mohammed Siddique Seddon : The Last of the Lascars: Yemeni Muslims in Britain 1836-2012 before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Last of the Lascars: Yemeni Muslims in Britain 1836-2012:

"Dr. Seddon has contributed an important and fascinating chapter to the modern history of Britain." David Waines, emeritus professor of Islamic Studies, Lancaster University, UK Originally arriving as imperial oriental sailors and later as postcolonial labor migrants, Yemeni Muslims have lived in British ports and industrial cities from the mid-nineteenth century. They married local British wives, established a network of "Arab-only" boarding houses and cafes, and built Britain's first mosques and religious communities. Mohammed Siddique Seddon is lecturer in religious and Islamic studies at the department of theology and religious studies, University of Chester, England.

"The book is well-researched and comprehensive in scope, charting the economic and cultural pressures on the migrants and their fluctuating legal, economic, and social status in both Yemen and Britain." Publishers Weekly
Selected review of Mohammad Siddique Seddon's Muslim Youth: Challenges, Opportunities and Expectations: "This wide-ranging, informative and compelling volume is essential reading for all those engaged with the issues facing Muslim youth today." Sanford Lakoff
